Overview

Meghan Glaspy is the Managing Partner in the Orange County office. Having previously served as a Deputy District Attorney, Meghan brings extensive trial experience and has worked closely with clients through complex and emotionally-charged disputes. Meghan brings that experience to RMO where she focuses her practice on probate disputes, including will and trust contests, breach of fiduciary duty claims, financial elder abuse protection, and contested conservatorships, representing beneficiaries, as well as individual, professional and corporate fiduciaries (administrators, executors, trustees and conservators).

Meghan grew up in Los Angeles and graduated from University of California, San Diego with a B.A. in Literature and English. She studied law at Georgetown University Law Center, where she was a published author in the Georgetown Journal of Law & Public Policy.
