Overview

Tara R. Burd is the Managing Partner of RMO LLP's San Diego office. With more than 15 years of experience, her practice focuses on representing heirs, beneficiaries, fiduciaries, creditors, and other interested parties in litigated probate, contested conservatorships, and financial elder abuse matters.

Throughout her career, Tara has handled a broad range of complex matters, including Marvin actions, community property disputes, employment and property disputes, antitrust matters, mass torts, civil rights cases, and breach of contract litigation in state, federal, and out-of-state courts. She brings this depth of experience to RMO with a precision-driven, results-oriented approach, guiding clients through complex legal challenges with strategic, efficient, and compassionate counsel.
